

Most of us recognize this painting but did you know....?

Christina's World by Andrew Wyeth, 1948. This is a depiction of Wyeth's neighbor Christina Olson, who suffered from the paralyzing condition, POLIO. Once this factor is known, the piece goes from being a playful image of a runaway imagination, to an image of struggle and almost physical deterioration.

