

Mark A. Lopatin, MD

Education:

- Medical College of Pennsylvania - 1979 - 1983
- Residency - Internal Medicine - Medical College of Pennsylvania 1983-1986
- Fellowship - Rheumatology - Thomas Jefferson University - 1987-1989

Board Certification:

- American Board of Internal Medicine
Internal Medicine
Rheumatology

Mark A. Lopatin is a rheumatologist who recently retired after 28 years in independent practice in Montgomery County, PA. He is active in organized medicine, having served as President and Chairman of the Montgomery County Medical Society. He also has served as chair of both the Montgomery County Medical Legal Committee and the Montgomery County Task Force on Mediation.

He has lectured on various aspects of health care and is the author of Rheum for Improvement - The Evolution of a Health Care Advocate.

Dr. Lopatin currently serves on the Board of Trustees for both the Pennsylvania Medical Society and their Political Action Committee.